

LCAP Stakeholder Engagement Process

Our district has offered a robust stakeholder engagement process to gather feedback from the Mill Valley School District community on our Local Control and Accountability Plan (LCAP). We view the input from our stakeholders as highly important and it has offered us valuable information to consider for integration in the LCAP.

Our LCAP is largely based upon Mill Valley School District's strategic plan, which serves as the foundation for ongoing planning and accountability purposes for the district. The strategic plan development process has involved high levels of input and participation from stakeholder groups throughout the district, involving over 1,000 people contributing to it.

In the development of our 2017-2018 LCAP, we have engaged the community in an ongoing, thorough, and thoughtful process that has involved in-person meetings with various stakeholder groups, presentations and discussions at Board of Education meetings, and by gathering written feedback from online surveys completed by parents and community members.

Through these methods of gathering and disseminating information, we have been able to hear different viewpoints and collect a broad spectrum of ideas. The suggestions provided by the different stakeholder groups have offered good input for consideration towards the development of our 2017-2018 LCAP. These ideas also provide excellent recommendations about how we can improve the practices in our schools to better serve our students.
