What will be the minimum allowable distance between students at their desks in a classroom? Does 倜ensuring 4-6 feet between students as practicableå∈  mean that students will be closer than 4 feet for the entire day of class if the classroom is too small (as most are)? Could larger classes be split up to allow adequate distancing? Will outdoor tents be used? if students will ever be seated less than 4 feet apart, please provide scientific data showing that less than 4 feet of physical distance over a period of 5+hours is safe.  (2.) Will the district reconsider this change to full-time inperson if Covid rates in Marin worsen again before or after April 12?  (3.) Will each school's hours return to whatever they were pre-pandemic?  (4.) What will happen with 3rd & 4th grade Chorus, since singing in person in groups is still considered unsafe? Will that be able to continue virtually?  (5.) The message does not mention SEL classes; will those continue in person or virtually?  (6.) Eating requires masks to be off and is one of the highest risk activities in terms of covid spread. At our school, snacks are currently eaten quickly, standing up, outdoors to allow safe distancing, but this cannot be done with a full lunch. Reed School District ends their day at 12: 30 and has openly shared that they still have not figured out a way to safely offer lunch. Please provide more information on exactly how on-campus lunches will be orchestrated safely, especially on rainy days at campuses without covered outdoor lunch areas. Will additional volunteers or staff be brought in to supervise lunch and enforce distancing rules? This has been difficult for my family since both parents work fill time. I have had to take days of work to get my elementary school student to school and have been counting down the days to March 15th when my middle school student transitions to pm so they would both be on the same schedule. I want my middle school student to be able to ride her bike part way with my elementary school student. This schedule that has siblings on different schedules has probably been hard on many families. Now we have another changel How do the teachers feel about this change? Do they feel safe doubling classroom size and shortening the distance to 4ft? Please be considerate of families and allow the elementary and middle school will be after the final transition has started making it so some students will have more of some classes than others. Couldná em the weight we have the schedule the same at the elementary school and middle school (flip flop am and pm) but have students in-person 5 daysweek at the middle school? The school? The are still so many parents that havenée Tw been vaccinated and this change will put them at a higher risk of getting covid. I do not support this change right now at either school. 					We would have rather continued with hybrid learning until children are eligible for vaccines, but that is not an option from the district. Our children were doing well with the hybrid model, benefting from in-person instruction and social contact with peers, but limiting COVID exposure by way of reduced hours at school, smaller class sizes, and no lunches on campus. Going back full-time takes away those extra precautions, in a time when kids are not eligible for vaccines. This feels rushed and less safe for the students and their families than the teachers (since they've been offered vaccines).
					Since the recent announcement of school moving to full- time, we have rushed to get vaccines for our kidså ™ grandparents since they are involved in childcare outside of school hours. 						Per my direct email, reposting here too:
						We all (students, teachers, administration, parents, community) are thrilled to one day very soon be full-time in the classroom. And we will have adjusted and changed ways of teaching and learning many times before we get there. As we know change can be a tough adjustment, but can be accepted when done well. And as we know, over promising and under delivering can be emotionally damaging and draining.
						I am writing to you to help answer questions of why students can not move forward as planned into the AM and/or PM cohort on Wednesday, March 17th?
						- What is the date for full return to school?
						- What does full return to school look like? i.e. 5 days, block schedule etc.
						- Since all current hybrid students are changing 3x3 classes on March 15, why can't they also change their AM/PM on March 17 as promised These answers will assist in the conversation we need to have with our son, Sammy, who has been counting down the days to change from the PM to AM cohort. He said to me on Monday, "mom I have 14 weeks of 8th grade left, which means 12 of them will finally be in the morning group".
						I also began as a TUHSD classroom monitor at Tam this

Redacted S	Strawberry Point School	4th Grade	Redacted	Hybrid (AM/PM cohort in-person learning)		The hybrid-back and forth between campus to home and being on 1 zoom class in the afternoon has been nothing short of a nightmare. When we inquired if we could switch to all EDI we were told no. The lack of structured, full day in-person teaching, has been detrimental to Ireland's learning and we have been doing everything we can (paying for a tutor and utilizing Bethany's services as well) to keep Ireland up to speed. Our daughter does best, with steady, structured teaching. Kids need to be back in school, full time-period.	Redacted	Redacted	Redacted	************

Redacted	Mill Valley Middle Schoo		Redacted	Hybrid (AM/PM cohort in-person learning)		we do not have a clear idea what options are available. combining of the AM & PM cohorts to one full-sized, full day class, that their only other option is to be placed with a different group of kids and with a different teacher (like the other kids that opted into EDL in November)? That would be a pretty traumatic change for kids this late into the school year (having to adjust to all new classmates and a new teacher for the last Zmonths school). The high school reopened this week w/ full day live instruction. Both the in person & EDL students stay in their current classes (with same classmates & same teachers), but the EDL kids (and alternating cohort kids), just zoom into the class's daily live instruction at the school. Is this an option for K-8 kids?	Redacted	Redacted	Redacted	3/8/2021 8:31
Redacted	Mill Valley Middle Schoo	7th Grada	Redacted	Hybrid (AM/PM cohort in-person learning)	No	We do not have extenuating circumstances, but have serious reservations about returning to school full time and with full classes. We did not sign up for this when we were asked to commit to a program in November for the å €Geremainder of the school year.â€□ Understood that teachers have the option to be vaccinated, but there is no guarantee that they will all receive the vaccine. We are also not comfortable returning to full class sizes in classrooms lacking enough space to guarantee compliance with social distancing guidelines and 6 feet of space between students. We have lots of questions, about how to protect students (not just the teachers) including, will the desks have partitions? We don't understand the push to return to full school with less than 8 weeks left in the school year. Why throw caution to the wind now when we'c been so vigilant for over a year? If you wait until next fall, with a third vaccine approved, we believe the majority if not all of parents and older siblings from your MVMS families will be vaccinated and it will be much safer. 						We had been planning on the shift from PM to AM, it was part of your communication from the start of hybrid, so while this is being positioned as less change, for our family who had been looking forward to and planning on the shift, it is one more change without a clear explanation. The uncertainty creates stress and frustration. I gather from prior communications that the shift to full-time would occur sometime on or after April 12, it would have been helpful to include any available information about timing in the above form. Why not make the AM/PM shift in the meantime as was planned?  Has there been any consideration to shifting classes to cohorts so that kids are not exposed to so many other students with the transition to full-time? (E.g., not mixing 7th and 8th graders in chorus, having the same group in PE as the other A/B elective, etc.)

						I recall there being some concern in the Fall that many classrooms could not hold full capacity classes with desks spaced even 4 feet apart, and that was part of the reason for cohorting. Can they indeed maintain this spacing? Will student desks have plexiglass?
						Will the kids be offered both AM and PM recess or breaks (in addition to lunch) and encouraged to get water, use the restroom, take a distanced mask break, et? Might they be encouraged to change masks after lunch, if available?
						How will restroom usage be handled with more people on campus? Same protocols with increased sanitizing?
						How many adults will be in each classroom…just one teacher, or will there be aides as well?
						I assume PE will be held outside… is there a backup plan for PE if it rains?
						What about Music? We've heard that singing, shouting, playing wind instruments etc is more risky〦 will music be held outside, or in a place such as the MPR with more spacing?
						Will Chorus remain remote (if so, when?) or will this now be offered on campus as well?
						Will kids go into the Library or will library be brought to them? What about Art class?
						Will surveillance testing of students be increased? Will it be highly encouraged or even required?
						Will any Spring Break guidelines or best practices be relayed given that this full return to schools is slated to happen immediately after break? Hawing administration post public health guidance on travel and gatherings etc. is helpful so that families know how to plan. Will students be asked to quarantine after travel this April at 120 miles, out of state, or not at all?
						Will administration also compile easy-to-understand guidelines/best practices for playdates, sports/extracurricular activities, and gatherings in general (per public health) so that families know what we can double down on to keep schools healthy?
						Will we still need to fill out the daily health screening forms? If so, how might they differ from current?
						Public health mentioned recently they would soon be eliminating the practice of shutting down cohorts with one positive case. Does this still apply with full-sized classrooms? What might be the threshold (if necessary) to go remote if multiple cases pop up within a classroom, a school site, etc?
						What about all-school events like assemblies, Earth Day, Open House, etc. Obviously not as big of a priority as getting kids back full-time, but curious if thereâ "s any wisbility or thinking on these being in person as well, if they are planned to be remote, or if it is wait and see?
						When will school schedules be communicated? Will days be full bell-to-bell as they were pre-COVID or will they be slightly modified? Will there still be early dismissal on Wednesdays?
						Will there be staggered drop-off/pickup plans or how will everyone get to/from campus safely all at once?
						Will asynchronous work, particularly iReady and the progressive learning apps students have been using, remain as homework? Will we keep District iPads at home or bring them back and forth?
						What time will the campus be open after school for public use of the fields, blacktops and play structures?

Redacted	Mill Valley Middle School		Redacted	Hybrid (AM/PM cohort in-person learning)		WHY NOW when, even if the teachers are fully vaccinated, the families are so close but not protected? This seems majorly disruptive to the teachers and the kids, and at what cost? We are super upset that MV didn't put in place thoughtful cohorts and now we will be exposed to 28 kids per class times our three kids at the school. The EDL choice is such a joke that we are pigeon holed into accepting the increased risk to get them through the end of the year with their beloved teachers. We cannot believe you will not be following the CDC guidelines of 6 foot spacing, and don't honestly see how you can get away with it. We're all for increased class time, but not by changing all the variables at once and completely throwing caution to the wind. This school is too large, middle schoolers are physically large and you are playing with fire. We are not appreciative of tripling our risk factors this close to our own place in line for vaccines by you doing this instead of in August. Shame on Dr. Berman.		Redacted	Redacted	3/5/2021 16:29
